HOW TO FILE FOR GUARDIANSHIP

(OF A PERSON AND ESTATE OR ESTATE ONLY)

WHAT IS GUARDIANSHIP OF A PERSON?

Guardianship is a court proceeding in which a judge gives someone who is not the parent custody of a child under the age of 18. A petition for guardianship of the person is filed when a minor child is living with an adult who is not the parent and the adult needs the legal right to make decisions on behalf of the child. When a guardian of the person is appointed, the guardian is awarded custody of the child and the natural parents no longer have the right to determine where the child will live or how he or she will be educated. Instead, the guardian has those rights, including the responsibility to determine medical treatment for the child.

TYPES OF GUARDIANSHIP OF A PERSON

The Court can grant two types of guardianships: (1) temporary (emergency) guardianship, which is granted for a limited period of time; and (2) a general guardianship which is granted until the minor reaches 18 years of age.

TEMPORARY (EMERGENCY) GUARDIANSHIP

The court may grant a temporary (emergency) guardianship if:

- There is an immediate and compelling need for the appointment;
- Personal notice to the parent(s) is given five (5) days in advance of the hearing, or there is good cause to waive notice to the parent(s), or they consent and waive notice for the temporary guardianship.

WHAT DO I DO WITH THE FORMS ONCE THEY ARE COMPLETED?

- Temporary (emergency) Guardianship Petition Forms

Remember that when you file a temporary (emergency) guardianship petition YOU MUST ALSO COMPLETE all of the forms for a general guardianship petition.

So, if you are petitioning for both a temporary and general guardianship, take your completed temporary and general guardianship forms to the Probate Examiners in Room 210 of the Wakefield Taylor Courthouse, 725 Court St., Martinez, CA. The Probate Examiners Office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., Monday through Friday. However, you must sign in for help between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. The Probate Examiners will begin reviewing documents starting at 9:00 a.m. each day, but only if you have already signed in before 9:00 a.m. The Probate Examiners will review your documents and ask you to make whatever corrections, if any, are necessary. They will then give you further instructions relating to serving and filing the petitions.

- General Guardianship Petition Forms

If you are only filing a petition for a general guardianship, you also take your completed forms to Room 210 of the Wakefield Taylor Courthouse, 725 Court St., Martinez, CA. The Probate Examiners Office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., Monday through Friday. However, you must sign in for help between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. The Probate Examiners will begin reviewing documents starting at 9:00 a.m. each day, but only if you have already signed in before 9:00 a.m. The Probate Examiners will review your documents and ask you to make whatever corrections, if any, that are necessary.

Once the review is completed, they will make two copies of your general petition. You will take the original and the two copies and file them with the Probate Clerk in Room 103, in the Wakefield Taylor Courthouse, 725 Court Street, Martinez, CA. The clerk will keep the original and one copy and return to you an endorsed filed copy which will have the hearing date when the court will hear the general guardianship petition and have your case number. You will have to serve the Notice of Hearing and Petition on all necessary parties.

HOW DO I SERVE THE GUARDIANSHIP FORMS?

- Serving the Temporary Guardianship Forms

The law requires that parents and certain relatives be given a copy of the petition for guardianship and certain other court forms you filed with the court. After all, they have to know that you are petitioning for guardianship of the minor. The legal term for this is “serving notice.” Someone else--NOT YOU--must serve the documents. You must do this right or you will have to start all over.

Personal Service--the parents (or any person having legal custody of the child) and the minor who is the subject of the petition and over the age of 12 must be personally served.

This means that someone--not you--who is over 18 years of age personally hands them a copy of: (1) Petition for Appointment of Temporary Guardian of the Person (GC-110); (2) Notice of Hearing (GC-020) at least five (5) days before the hearing.

In Contra Costa County, the court requires that only the parents and minors over 12 years of age be personally served with the temporary (emergency) guardianship forms.

- Serving the general guardianship forms

Personal Service--You must personally serve the mother and father of the minor and also the minor if the minor is over 12 years of age. You must serve the following: (1) Petition for Appointment of Guardian of the Person (GC-210); (2) Guardianship Petition-Child Information Attachment (GC-210(CA)); Indian Child Inquiry Attachment (ICWA-010(A)); Notice of Hearing-Guardianship or Conservatorship (GC-020); and Order Appointing Temporary Guardianship (GC-240), if granted. The general Petition must be served fifteen (15) days before the court hearing.

Service by mail--Paternal and maternal grandparents, the child's brothers and sisters, including half-brothers and half-sisters, and any person having the care of the proposed child of the guardianship (if other than the person having legal custody) [and any spouse named in the petition may be served by mail.] This means that someone--not you--mails them a copy of the Notice of Hearing and Petition for Appointment of Guardian of the Person at least 15 days before the court hearing.

WHAT IF I DO NOT KNOW WHERE THE PARENTS OR RELATIVES ARE?

If you do not know where the parents or relatives are, you must make a reasonable and diligent effort to locate them. Try to find them by:

- Asking all family members, friends, acquaintances, and employers;
- Searching the real and personal property indexes in the recorder's and assessor's offices for the county where the person last lived;
- Looking in the phone book;
- Calling telephone information;
- Searching on the internet & social media websites; and
- Doing anything else you can think of to find them.

If you have done everything you can to locate the parents or relatives and you still can't locate them, you can ask the court to allow you to proceed without giving notice to those persons. To do this, fill out a Declaration Regarding Notice (Form GC-02), which is included in this packet, and file it at least five days prior to the court hearing.

WHAT DO I DO WITH THE PROOF OF SERVICE ONCE THE FORMS ARE SERVED?

If the forms were served by personal delivery to the parents or relatives, the person who served the forms fills out a Proof of Personal Service of Notice of Hearing-Guardianship form (GC-020(P)). If the forms were served by mail (not allowed for parents or minor(s) in the case), the person who served the forms fills out the Proof of Service by mail on page 2 of the Notice of Hearing form (GC-020). The Notice of Hearing must be attached to the proof of service.

After the forms have been properly filled out, signed and dated, make two copies and file the forms at least five (5) days before your hearing.

WHAT IF THE PARENTS AND RELATIVES AGREE THAT I CAN BE THE GUARDIAN, DO I STILL HAVE TO SERVE THEM?

If anyone who is required to receive notice of the guardianship petition (parents and relatives) agree that you can be the guardian, they can sign the Consent of Proposed Guardian, Nomination of Guardian, and Consent to Appointment of Guardian, and Waiver of Notice form (GC-211). You do not have to give notice to anyone who signs the consent portion of that form. If a person tells you verbally they agree you can be the guardian, but does not sign a written consent, you will still have to give the person notice.

WHAT SHOULD I DO BEFORE THE HEARING DATE?

Before your court hearing date, a probate examiner will review the paperwork you submitted and make notes for the probate judge. These notes are available 6 to 7 court days before the hearing and can be read by going to www.cc-courts.org. Click on Online Services and then click on Tentative Rulings which will take you to the tentative ruling for civil/probate. Scroll down and click on your department number which should open a list of dates. You can find the notes made by the probate examiners by clicking on the date of your hearing, opening the document and searching for your name or case number or the minor's name.

It is IMPORTANT that you check the ruling because if there are things that are missing and/or corrections to be made they will appear in the tentative ruling. Ordinarily the defects need to be corrected before your petition will be granted by the judge. If defects are noted, attend the hearing to assure the judge you still want the guardianship. The court may continue the hearing to a later date to allow you time to correct the defects.

If the court grants your petition for guardianship at the hearing, the court will sign the Order Appointing Guardian of Minor (GC-240) and the clerk will issue the Letters of Guardianship (GC-250). The Letters of Guardianship are evidence of your authority to act on behalf of the child.

WHAT ARE THE FEES FOR FILING A PETITION FOR GUARDIANSHIP?

The fee for filing a petition for appoint of guardian of the person only (GC-210(P)) is $225.00. Additional fees may be assessed based on each case which may include fees for conducting an investigation.

WHAT IF I CANNOT AFFORD THE FEES?

If you cannot afford the filing fee, you can request a fee waiver by completing and filing a Request to Waive Court Fees (FW-001-GC) and Order on Court Fee Wavier (FW-003-GC)³.

A court fee waiver requested by you to be appointed guardian of a person will be based on the financial condition of the proposed minor and/or his parents and not on your financial condition. However, you are responsible for completing all forms and providing all information asked for in the forms.

WHAT IS GUARDIANSHIP OF AN ESTATE?

A guardian of a minor's estate is usually necessary if the minor has substantial assets, such as an inheritance. Generally, you need a guardianship of the minor's estate to handle an inheritance even if you are the minor's parent.

WHAT FORMS DO I HAVE TO COMPLETE TO BECOME THE GUARDIAN OF THE PERSON AND ESTATE?

Petition for Guardianship of Person & Estate

If you are petitioning for a temporary guardianship and a general guardianship of the person and estate you must complete both the petitions.

However, on the Petition for Appointment of Guardian (Form GC-210) be certain that:

- You check the box for person and for estate;
- Item #1c.: this item deals with the requirement that the guardian of a minor's estate post a "bond" to insure that the estate will be reimbursed if the guardian takes improper actions, such as stealing or mishandling estate funds.
- Check Item #1c(1): if both living parents nominate you as guardian and agree to waive bond and the court does not require otherwise; (2) the estate consists of property given by another person to the minor, and that person has requested waiver of the bond, either in a written nomination of guardian or in a will.

If you do not qualify to have bond waived you will have to post a bond from a surety company. The guardians may: (1) obtain bond from personal sureties - such as friends or relatives; (2) deposit non-estate money, certificates of deposit, or certain bond with the court clerk or assign an interest in financial accounts to the court clerk; or (3) place funds from the minor's estate in a

³ These forms are not included in the packet. They have to be purchased separately.

“blocked account.” A blocked account requires written permission from the court before the guardian can withdraw funds or remove assets.

- Check Item # 1c(2): if you do not qualify to have bond waived. You choose to post a bond, you will then have to calculate the amount of bond needed.
- Item # 1e: This box is not usually checked this box. This box is checked only when you wish the court to allow you to undertake certain unusual or speculative actions in handling the minor’s estate.
- Item #7: List the total estimated value of what the minor owns.
- Item #9: This box is not usually checked.

You follow the same procedure outlined above for the filing and service of a guardianship of a person.

This form gives general information about guardianship of the person under the Probate Code. It discusses:

- Alternatives to guardianship;
- Nomination of a guardian;
- Who can be appointed as a guardian;
- How to ask the probate court to appoint a guardian;
- How to formalize the appointment;
- The rights and duties of a guardian of the person;
- Court oversight, removal, and replacement of the guardian; and
- How and when a guardianship can end.

For an overview of guardianship and a comparison of probate and juvenile court guardianships with placement ordered by the juvenile court with a foster/resource family, read Comparison of Guardians With Other Nonparent Caregivers (form GC-207-INFO/JV-352-INFO). For information on juvenile court guardianship, read Information on Juvenile Court Guardianship (form JV-350-INFO). For information on probate guardianship of the estate, read Information on Probate Guardianship of the Estate (form GC-206-INFO).

CAUTION: This form is not a substitute for legal advice from a licensed attorney. Parents and potential nonparent caregivers considering guardianship should consult a lawyer for answers to questions or concerns about their situation. Click this link, www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp-findlawyer.htm, for help finding a lawyer. More information is available from the California Courts Online Self-Help Center and private publications and resources. The superior court clerk's office or self-help center also has general information, as well as information about any local procedures or rules.

Before asking a court to appoint a guardian, a parent or potential guardian may find it useful to think about these questions:

- Does the child really need a guardianship?
- What alternatives, such as those discussed on pages 2 and 3, are available?
- Would any of those alternatives be better for the child?
- Do the parents know about the alternatives and agree to the guardianship?
- If the parents don't agree, is there enough evidence to show the court that the child needs a guardian?

A person who cannot answer these questions is strongly encouraged to seek legal advice or, at least, more information.

1 What Is a Guardianship?

A guardianship of the person is a court-ordered relationship that gives an adult, called a guardian, legal and physical custody of a child, with the right to make parental decisions about the child's care and control, residence, education, and medical treatment. (For a detailed discussion of a guardian's rights and duties, see (11), below.)

With a couple of exceptions (see (3), below), parents may not be appointed guardians of their own child.

Appointment of a guardian of the person completely suspends the parents' rights to have the child live with them and to make decisions for the child for as long as the guardianship lasts. The appointment of a guardian does not, however, terminate parental rights without additional action by the guardian and the court. For more information, see (10) and (15), below.

2 Are There Nonparental Caregiver Arrangements That Do Not Require a Court Order?

Yes. Parents can make arrangements for their child to live with an adult who is not the child's parent without going to court. These arrangements can be useful if a parent knows or believes they will not be able to take care of the child for a limited time. For example, a custodial parent may be ill; need hospitalization or other residential treatment; be detained, deported, or incarcerated; or be deployed on active military duty.

Under California law, a parent cannot give custody of their child to another person without a court order. Only a court can order legal and physical custody taken from a parent and given to a nonparent. This can happen in a few different types of cases, including a family law child custody case, a probate guardianship of the person, an adoption case, and a juvenile court case.

If a parent allows an adult relative or friend to take temporary care of their child, some service providers will question the caregiver's authority to make decisions or give permission for the child's activities or treatment. For example, a school may require written proof of the caregiver's right to enroll a child in school, or a health care provider may require a formal, written document that shows parental authorization of the caregiver to consent to the child's medical or dental care. This section discusses several ways to arrange for another adult to exercise parental authority.

a. Caregiver's Authorization Affidavit

The Family Code allows an adult, other than a parent, with whom a child is living to complete and sign a Caregiver's Authorization Affidavit (CAA) and make certain decisions for the child. A completed CAA authorizes a nonrelative caregiver to enroll the child in school and consent to the child's school-related medical care. A relative caregiver who provides additional information on the CAA also has authority to consent to the child's medical and dental care and limited authority over a child's mental health care.

Family Code section 6550 authorizes use of the CAA. Section 6552 describes the required contents of the CAA form. You can find a sample of the form here: www.courts.ca.gov/documents/caregiver.pdf. A paper copy may be available from your superior court clerk's office or self-help center, or the county public law library.

A CAA does not need to be filed in court, but it must be signed by the caregiver under penalty of perjury, which means that a caregiver who lies on the form can be charged with a crime. A CAA does not affect the decision-making rights of the child's parents and does not give the caregiver custody of the child.

a. The child's parent can veto any of the caregiver's decisions, can take the child to live with them at any time, even if the caregiver does not think that is best for the child, and can end the CAA at any time.

b. Written caregiver agreement (power of attorney)

A parent who has full custody of a child can use a power of attorney (POA) to authorize another adult to take care of their child. A POA is a written document signed by one person giving another person authority to act for the first person.

CAUTION: Many child custody experts discourage parents from using a POA to authorize another adult to take care of a child. Creating a valid POA is difficult. It requires precise language, several formal steps, and can easily lead parents to grant rights different from those they intend. Any parent thinking about using a POA is strongly encouraged to consult an attorney to discuss the pros and cons.

A POA may be useful if a parent knows or believes they will be unavailable for a specific time, such as an active-duty military deployment, or wants to give a caregiver more authority than is allowed by a CAA. With a POA, a parent can give a caregiver all or some of the same powers as a guardian of the person (see ① and ⑪ for discussions of those powers).

If the caregiver agrees in writing, they owe the parent a strict duty to exercise the powers specified in the POA. The agreement is important. Without an agreement, a caregiver has no duty to use the powers the parent has given them in the POA to care for the child. A parent who creates a POA also keeps all powers and duties to care for their child. If a caregiver under a POA does not properly care for the child, the parent is still responsible for doing so.

In addition, the child's parent can veto any of the caregiver's decisions, can take the child to live with them at any time even if the caregiver does not think that is best for the child, and can end the arrangement at any time.

c. Voluntary Placement Agreement

In some circumstances, parents can also voluntarily give temporary care and custody of their child to a child welfare agency, probation department, or tribe without a court order. This Voluntary Placement Agreement (VPA) must satisfy certain legal conditions; specify the child's legal status and the rights and obligations of the parents, the child, and the agency taking custody of the child; and be documented on Voluntary Placement Agreement—Placement Request (California Department of Social Services form SOC 155, available at <https://cdss.ca.gov/cdssweb/entres/forms/English/soc155.pdf>).

Under a VPA, the child is placed in foster care, which includes placement in the home of a relative or nonrelative extended family member if possible. The child may be eligible for foster care benefits, but the parents may also be required to pay for a portion of the child's care. The agreement usually lasts for 6 months, but it may be extended for an additional 6 months for a total period not to exceed 12 months. Parents can terminate the agreement at any time but, as noted above, if they end it before the child welfare agency agrees, the agency can file a dependency petition for the child in juvenile court.

d. Indian custodianship

An Indian custodianship can provide another option that does not require court involvement if the child is an Indian child, as defined by the federal Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA). An Indian custodian is any Indian person who has legal custody of an Indian child under tribal law or custom or under state law. Although under California law, a nonparent may gain legal custody of a child, including an Indian child, only by court order, the state recognizes legal custody of an Indian child that is valid under tribal law or custom. The child's parent may also create an Indian custodianship without a court order by transferring temporary physical care, custody, and control of the Indian child to an Indian person.

③ Who Can Be Appointed as Guardian?

The court may appoint any adult (a person 18 years of age or older)—including a relative, a friend of the family, or another interested person—as guardian of a child's person. The court may not appoint a parent unless (a) the parent is terminally ill and is appointed as co-guardian with a nonparent or (b) the child is 18–20 years old, has consented, and has requested Special Immigrant Juvenile findings.

④ Can a Parent or Other Person Pick the Person They Want to Be the Guardian?

A parent can nominate a guardian if:

- The other parent(s) also nominate, or consent in writing to the nomination of, the same guardian for that child.
- When the petition for appointment is filed, the other parent(s) are dead or lack legal capacity to consent to the nomination, or the consent of the other parent would not be required for the child's adoption.

The parent may make the nomination in the petition for appointment, at the hearing on the petition, or in a writing signed before or after the petition is filed. The nomination may state that the parent wants the nominee, if appointed, to have the same authority over the child as a parent with legal custody would have and to be able to exercise that authority without court oversight to the same extent as a parent with legal custody would be able to.

The nomination is effective when made, except that a written nomination may provide that the nomination takes effect only when a specified event or events, including the parent's later legal incapacity, detention, or death, has occurred.

Unless a written nomination provides otherwise, the nomination remains in effect even if the parent later dies or is determined to lack legal capacity.

⑤ Who Can Request Appointment of a Guardian?

A relative or other person, including the child if 12 years old or older, can file a petition asking the court to appoint a guardian. The person who files the petition does not need to be the same person as the one who wants to be appointed guardian, but usually is. This form assumes that the same person is filing the petition and asking to be guardian.

6 Filing the Petition and Giving Notice of the Hearing

a. Petition

Once a person has decided that a child needs a guardian appointed, the first step in the process of establishing guardianship is to complete Petition for Appointment of Guardian of Minor (form GC-210) or Petition for Appointment of Guardian of the Person (form GC-210(P)) and all other required documents. Then file the forms with the clerk of the court in the county where the child lives unless it would be better for the child to file the petition in a different county. A list of statewide forms that need to be filed with a petition for appointment of a guardian of the person is available on Forms You Need to Ask the Court to Appoint a Guardian of the Person (form GC-505). Some courts have additional local forms that need to be filed along with the statewide forms.

NOTE: After a petition is filed, the court may, but is not required to, appoint an attorney to represent the child. Any interested person can ask the court to appoint an attorney for the child. If the child is an Indian child, the child's parent or Indian custodian has a right to an appointed attorney if they cannot afford to hire an attorney. The court is not otherwise authorized to appoint an attorney for a parent or for the petitioner.

The petition needs to ask the court to appoint a guardian of the person or a guardian of both the person and the estate, give the proposed guardian's name and address and the child's name and date of birth, and state that the appointment is "necessary or convenient." The petition must also give the names and addresses of the child's parents and other persons who have specific relationships with the child. If the child is an Indian child, the petition must state that fact and give the name and address of any Indian custodian and the child's tribe. The petition must also tell the court whether there are any adoption, child custody, juvenile court, family law, or other guardianship proceedings affecting the child in progress in California or any other state or country.

The court charges a fee for filing a guardianship petition. If the child or the child's estate cannot afford to pay the fees, the petitioner can ask the court to waive the fee requirement. The court clerk can provide the required fee waiver forms.

b. Notice

Before the court can hold a hearing to decide the petition, the person who filed the petition must give notice of the hearing to specific persons unless the court finds that the petitioner tried diligently and could not give notice to a person or that notice would be against the interests of justice. The notice must include a copy of the petition and a copy of Comparison of Guardians With Other Nonparent Caregivers (form GC-207-INFO/JV-352-INFO).

Notice must be given to the child if 12 years old or older, the parents, anyone else with legal custody, and anyone nominated to be the guardian by serving them personally or, if that is not possible, by first-class mail with an acknowledgment of receipt requested. For more information about service of notice, see What Is "Proof of Service" in a Guardianship? (form GC-510). Other persons may be given notice personally, by mail, or, if they consent, electronically. If the child is an Indian child, notice must be mailed to any Indian custodian and the child's tribe as required by the Indian Child Welfare Act.

a. Guardianship investigation

Unless it finds a good reason not to, the court will order an investigation before the hearing on the petition to appoint a guardian. A court investigator will contact the proposed guardian, the parents, the child, and any other persons who might know about the child's family and their needs. The investigator will give a report to the court and make a recommendation on what decision the court should make. The report is confidential; the court will make it available only to persons served (see item 6b, above) in the proceeding and their attorneys.

The court or county charges a fee for conducting the guardianship investigation. The court can waive its fee if it would cause a hardship to the child or the child's estate. The county may also waive its fee because of hardship.

b. Child welfare referral and investigation

If the probate court thinks the child has been, or is at risk of being, abused or neglected by a parent, the court may refer the child to the county child welfare agency for an investigation and commencement of

- b. juvenile court proceedings. If the probate court makes a referral, the guardianship proceedings are paused, but the probate court can make any order necessary to protect the child, including an order appointing a temporary guardian or issuing a temporary restraining order.

If, after three weeks, the agency has not notified the probate court that it has filed a petition to begin proceedings in juvenile court, the probate court or the child's attorney, if the probate court has appointed one, may file a request with the juvenile court to review the agency's decision not to begin juvenile court proceedings and to order the agency to file a petition to begin those proceedings.

If the juvenile court begins proceedings, the probate guardianship proceedings must remain paused. If the juvenile court does not begin proceedings, the probate court can hold a hearing and decide whether to appoint a guardian.

8 Hearing and Standard for Appointment

An interested person may appear and object or respond to the petition in writing at or before the hearing. In addition, an interested person may appear and object or respond orally at the hearing. If no one objects, the court may decide the matter on the verified petition and declarations. If a person objects, then the court will consider evidence, determine any issues, and make appropriate orders.

Based on its determination of the child's best interest, the court may grant the petition, may grant another person's petition, or may find that the child does not need a guardianship and deny all the petitions. The probate court may appoint a guardian for a child when the appointment is "necessary or convenient." This can happen if no parent is willing, available, or suitable to have care, custody, and control of the child. A parent may not be able to care for the child because of the parent's death, incapacity, military obligations, detention, or other reasons. The petitioner must prove to the court that a guardianship is needed.

Appointing a guardian of the person may be necessary or convenient if the court decides that the appointment is in the child's best interest. If a parent objects to the appointment of a guardian of the person, the court must, before appointing a guardian, find that remaining in or returning to parental custody would be detrimental (harmful) to the child.

The longer a child has been living safely with the proposed guardian, the more likely a court is to find that returning to the parents is detrimental to the child or not in the child's best interest.

9 Affirmation and Letters

For appointment of a guardian to be valid, the court must sign the Order Appointing Guardian or Extending Guardianship of the Person (form GC-240). Once the court signs the order, the guardian needs to complete Letters of Guardianship (form GC-250) and take both forms GC-240 and GC-250 to the clerk's office. After affirming that the guardian will perform their duties according to law, the clerk will issue Letters of Guardianship, a legal document that is proof of appointment as the child's guardian. The clerk will keep the original Letters in the case file. The guardian should buy a certified copy from the clerk, make photocopies of the certified copy, and keep the certified copy in a safe place. Showing officials and service providers a copy of the Letters will help the guardian perform their duties, such as enrolling the child in school and obtaining medical care, by verifying their legal authority to act on the child's behalf.

10 Custody and Visitation Rights—Guardians and Parents

A guardian of the person has full legal and physical custody of the child and is responsible for all decisions relating to care and control of the child. The child's parents can no longer make decisions for the child during a guardianship. The rights of the parents are completely suspended—not terminated—as long as the guardianship remains in effect.

If a guardian is appointed, a parent or other person can ask the court to order the guardian to let them visit or spend time with the child. If the court does not make an order, the guardian can decide who visits the child, how often, and for how long.

After the child has been in the guardian's custody for a minimum time—varying from six months to three years depending on the applicable statute—the guardian may petition to terminate parental rights and adopt the child.

11 Guardian's Rights and Dutiesa. Basic rights and duties

A guardian of the person generally has the same rights to legal and physical custody of the child as a parent. If a parent nominates a person as guardian and that person is appointed by the court, the court will grant the guardian, to the extent provided in the nomination, the same rights and duties regarding the child that a custodial parent has unless the court finds good cause to withhold any of them.

In other circumstances, however, the court can order the guardian to get court approval before taking specific actions for which a parent would not need court approval. The order of appointment and the Letters will state whether the court has placed limits on the guardian's authority.

If the child has special needs, a guardian must strive to meet those needs or secure appropriate services. Some children may have physical or learning disabilities. Other children come from abusive homes or have been victims of abuse. Counseling and other services may be necessary to assist a child who has special needs or has had difficult or traumatic life experiences.

A guardian is responsible for providing for food, clothing, shelter, education, and all the medical and dental needs of the child. A guardian must also provide for the safety, protection, and physical and emotional growth of the child. Like a parent, a guardian should maintain close contact with the child's school and physician.

b. Residence

A guardian of the person has the right to decide where the child lives. The child normally lives with the guardian, but the guardian can make other arrangements if they are in the best interest of the child. The guardian should check with the court before placing the child to live with the parents.

A guardian must give proper written notice to the court and other persons of any change of address of either the child or the guardian. A guardian must get permission from the court before changing the child's address to a place outside California.

c. Education

A guardian of the person holds the child's educational rights and is responsible for the child's education. The guardian determines where the child will attend school and helps the child set and attain educational goals. The guardian must assist the child in obtaining services if the child has special educational needs. As the child's advocate in the school system, the guardian should attend teacher conferences and play an active role in the child's education. The guardian of a younger child may want to consider enrolling the child in Head Start or another similar program. The guardian of an older child should consider the child's future educational needs, such as college or a specialized school.

d. Health care

A guardian of the person is responsible for meeting the child's medical, dental, and mental health needs. In most cases, the guardian has the authority to consent to the child's medical treatment. However, surgery may not be performed on a child 14 years old or older except in an emergency unless either (1) both the child and the guardian give consent or (2) a court order specifically authorizes the surgery.

A guardian of the person may not place a child in a mental health treatment facility against the child's wishes. A mental health conservatorship proceeding is required for such an involuntary placement. However, the guardian should arrange counseling and other mental health services for the child if appropriate.

In certain situations, the law allows older and more mature children to consent to their own treatment, including outpatient mental health treatment, medical care related to pregnancy or sexually transmitted diseases, and drug and alcohol treatment.

e. Financial support

Even when the child has a guardian, the parents are still obligated to support the child financially. The guardian may take action to obtain child support. You may contact the local child support agency in your county to collect support from a parent. The child may also be eligible for other public benefits, Social Security benefits, Veterans Administration benefits, Indian child welfare benefits, and other public or private funds. For information about some options, see (12), below.

f. Consent to changes to child's legal status

A guardian of the person has the authority to consent to (allow) many changes the child may want to make in the transition to independent adulthood. These include:

(1) United States passport application

A guardian has authority to apply for a United States passport for the child.

(2) Driver's license application

A guardian has authority to consent to a child's driver's license application. By giving consent, the guardian becomes liable for any civil damages that result if the minor causes an accident. The law requires that anyone signing the DMV application obtain insurance to cover the minor.

(3) Enlistment in the armed services

The guardian has authority to consent to a minor's enlistment in the armed services. If the minor enters into active duty with the armed services, the minor becomes emancipated under California law, and the guardianship ends.

(4) Marriage

For the child to get married, both the guardian and the court must give permission. If the minor enters a valid marriage, the minor becomes emancipated under California law, and the guardianship ends.

g. Liability for child's misconduct

A guardian, like a parent, is liable for the harm and damage caused by the willful misconduct of a child. There are special rules concerning harm caused by the use of a firearm. If you are concerned about your possible liability, you should consult an attorney.

h. Additional duties

The court may place other conditions on the guardianship or additional duties on the guardian. For example, the court may require the guardian to complete counseling or parenting classes, to obtain specific services for the child, or to follow a scheduled visitation plan between the child and the child's parents or relatives. The guardian must follow all court orders.

12Financial Support and Services for Children in Probate Guardianship

- a. Subject to certain conditions, a child living in the home of a nonrelative probate guardian may receive state Aid to Families with Dependent Children—Foster Care (AFDC-FC) in the same monthly amount as a child placed in the home of a foster parent or resource family. A child living with a relative guardian may receive CalWORKs cash payments based on income.

A youth 18 years of age or older who continues living with a former guardian may continue to receive AFDC-FC or CalWORKs while attending high school or an equivalent full-time educational or vocational training program if expected to graduate before the reach age 19 or, if they have a disability and are attending high school full time, until age 21.

- b. California offers a variety of publicly funded childcare programs that help low-income families, including families of children living with guardians, pay for childcare. These programs include CalWORKs childcare, Alternative Payment program (AP) voucher and contract-based childcare, California State Preschool Program (CSPP), Head Start and Early Head Start, and Transitional Kindergarten. Many of these childcare programs offer special consideration for families caring for children who have been formally or informally placed outside their home.

Each county in California has at least one childcare resource and referral agency that helps families find childcare and figure out whether they qualify for public funding to help pay for it. Guardians can use this website to find their local resource and referral agency: <https://rrnetwork.org/family-services/find-child-care>. This section discusses the main childcare programs in California.

(1) CalWORKs childcare vouchers:

CalWORKs childcare has three stages:

Stage 1: An entitlement for parents or guardians receiving CalWORKs cash assistance or who received cash assistance in the past 24 months and are engaged or want to engage in a Welfare-to-Work activity. Families stay in Stage 1 until they are transferred to Stage 2.

- (1) Stage 2: An entitlement for parents or guardians who received CalWORKs cash assistance in the past 24 months or a lump-sum diversion payment or services. See (2), below, for eligibility requirements.

Stage 3: Subject to enough funding, families are transferred to Stage 3 after 24 months of receiving cash assistance or if they received a lump-sum diversion payment or services. See (2), below, for eligibility requirements.

Families get continuous CalWORKs childcare for children in their care, including children in formal and informal out-of-home care, for at least 12 months until recertification. Childcare is available until the child is 13 years old or until the child is 21 years old if they have a disability. Qualifying families should not be put on a subsidized childcare waiting list for CalWORKs Stages 1 and 2, as these are entitlement programs. Families can choose a childcare center, family childcare home, or family, friend, or neighbor setting that best meets their needs.*

(2) AP voucher and contract-based childcare (including CalWORKs Stages 2 and 3):

Families qualify for childcare based on income, or if they receive CalWORKs cash assistance, or if they are experiencing homelessness and the parent or guardian has a “need” for child care (for example, if they are working or going to school). Families have continuous eligibility for at least 12 months until recertification, until the child is 13 years old or until the child is 21 years old if the child has a disability. Families can choose a childcare center, family childcare home, or family, friend, or neighbor setting that best meets their needs.*

* Some counties may require guardians to use licensed “family, friend, or neighbor” child care.

(3) California State Preschool Program (CSPP):

AP voucher and contract-based child care eligibility requirements apply, but there are some exceptions. CSPP is for children ages 4–5, and there are no “need-based” requirements for part-day CSPP. CSPPs are located on school campuses and in neighborhoods.

(4) Head Start and Early Head Start:

Families experiencing homelessness or receiving CalWORKs cash assistance or supplemental security income (SSI) qualify regardless of income. Other families must qualify based on income. Head Start offers full services to families with children ages 3–5; Early Head Start is for pregnant women and children under age 3.

(5) Transitional Kindergarten:

No-cost early care and education for 4-year-olds offered on school campuses. Parents and guardians with childcare subsidies may keep their 4-year-old children in non-school settings if they prefer.

c. Other community resources

Each county has agencies and service providers that can help a guardian meet the specific needs of a child who comes from a conflict-filled, troubled, or deprived environment. If the child has special needs, the guardian must strive to meet those needs or secure appropriate services. Some children have physical or learning disabilities. Other children come from abusive homes or have been victims of abuse. A child who has special needs or has had traumatic life experiences may need counseling and other services. The probate court cannot help a guardian get services. To find resources and get referrals, the guardian can check with the court self-help center, the local child welfare agency, or even a support group for guardians. A relative guardian can start by visiting the California Kinship Navigator at www.getvirtuallsupport.org/app/.

13 Court Oversight of Guardian

Guardians are subject to the regulation and control of the court in performing their duties. To the extent resources are available, the court will require the guardian to complete and submit annual status reports to the court. Confidential Guardianship Status Report (form GC-251) must be used for this report. The report must provide information about the child’s residence, education, physical and emotional health, other persons the child lives with, the child’s relationship with the parents, and whether the guardianship is still needed. If the guardian, the child, or another interested person wants the court to decide whether the guardian has the authority or duty to take or not take a specific action, they can file a petition. After notice and a hearing, the court will decide and make orders.

In addition, some counties have “court visitors” who track and review guardianships. In these counties, a guardian is expected to cooperate with all requests of the court visitor. And no matter the county, the guardian must always cooperate with the court and court investigators.

14 Removal and Replacement of Guardian

After notice and a hearing on a petition filed by the child, a relative or friend of the child, or any other interested person, the probate court may remove a guardian for specific reasons or when it is in the child’s best interest. The court may also suspend the powers of the guardian until it can hold a hearing on the petition for removal. A guardian may also file a petition to resign, and, if the court determines after a hearing that the resignation appears proper, the court must allow it.

If there is a vacancy for any reason, the court may appoint a successor guardian after notice and a hearing as in the case of the original appointment.

15 Termination of Guardianship

A guardianship of the person automatically terminates (ends) when the child reaches age 18 or one of the following events occurs before the child reaches age 18:

- The child is adopted;
- The child is emancipated by getting married, enlisting in the military, or court order; or
- The child dies.

If none of these events has occurred, the child, a parent, or the guardian may petition the court for termination of guardianship before the child reaches age 18. To grant the petition, the court must find that termination is in the child’s best interest.

The longer a child has been living safely with the guardian, the more difficult it will be to show that ending the guardianship is in the child’s best interest. In fact, several statutes authorize a guardian to file a petition to terminate parental rights in conjunction with a request to adopt the child.

Under the Probate Code, for example, if a child, other than an Indian child, has lived with a probate guardian for at least two years and the court has found that adoption by the guardian would be in the child’s best interest, a proceeding to terminate parental rights may be brought in the guardianship proceeding, in an adoption proceeding, or in a separate action. The rights and procedures in Family Code sections 7800–7895, including a parent’s right to notice and counsel, apply to this proceeding. (Family Code section 8802 provides different waiting periods and procedures depending on the situation.)

If the guardianship is terminated while the child is still a minor, and no other custodial arrangement is ordered, the child returns to parental custody.

If the child, before reaching age 18, has requested or consented to the extension of the guardianship to allow time to complete a federal application for Special Immigrant Juvenile status, the court may extend the guardianship past the youth’s 18th birthday, but not past the youth’s 21st birthday.

16 Legal Advice and Resources

As noted on page 1, prospective guardians and parents are strongly encouraged to talk with an attorney. The attorney can advise them about the legal effect of a guardianship on parental rights, a guardian’s rights and responsibilities, the limits of a guardian’s authority, the rights of the child, and the court processes for appointing, overseeing, modifying, and terminating a guardianship.

Court staff cannot give legal advice. The court’s self-help center can, however, give legal information to a person who is not represented by an attorney and help the person fill out any forms they need to file. Information and answers can also be found by contacting local community resources, researching private publications, or visiting the county public law library.

When you are appointed by the court as a guardian of a minor, you become an officer of the court and assume certain duties and obligations. An attorney is best qualified to advise you about these matters. You should clearly understand the information on this form. You will find additional information in the Guardianship Pamphlet (for Guardianships of Children in the Probate Court) (Form GC-205), which is available from the court.

If the probate court appoints you as a guardian of the person for a child, you will be required to assume important duties and obligations.

- As guardian, you do not have the right to change the child's residence to a place outside of California unless you first receive the court's permission. If the court grants permission, California law requires that you establish legal guardianship in the state where the child will be living. Individual states have different rules regarding guardianships. You should seek additional information about guardianships in the state where you want the child to live.

Form Adopted for Mandatory Use
Judicial Council of California
GC-248 [New January 1, 2001]

GUARDIAN OF (Name):	MINOR	CASE NUMBER:

- e. Medical treatment - As guardian, you are responsible for meeting the medical needs of the child. In most cases, you have the authority to consent to the child's medical treatment. However, if the child is 14 years or older, surgery may not be performed on the child unless either (1) both the child and the guardian consent or (2) a court order is obtained that specifically authorizes the surgery. This holds true except in emergencies. A guardian may not place a child involuntarily in a mental health treatment facility under a probate guardianship. A mental health conservatorship proceeding is required for such an involuntary commitment. However, the guardian may secure counseling and other necessary mental health services for the child. The law also allows older and more mature children to consent to their own treatment in certain situations such as outpatient mental health treatment, medical care related to pregnancy or sexually transmitted diseases, and drug and alcohol treatment.
- f. Community resources - There are agencies in each county that may be helpful in meeting the specific needs of children who come from conflicted, troubled, or deprived environments. If the child has special needs, you must strive to meet those needs or secure appropriate services.
- g. Financial support - Even when the child has a guardian, the parents are still obligated to financially support the child. The guardian may take action to obtain child support. The child may also be eligible for Temporary Aid for Needy Families, TANF (formerly known as AFDC), social security benefits, Veterans Administration benefits, Indian child welfare benefits, and other public or private funds.
- h. Visitation - The court may require that you allow visitation or contact between the child and his or her parents. The child's needs often require that the parent-child relationship be maintained, within reason. However, the court may place restrictions on the visits, such as the requirement of supervision. The court may also impose other conditions in the child's best interest.
- i. Driver's license - As guardian of the person, you have the authority to consent to the minor's application for a driver's license. If you consent, you will become liable for any civil damages that may result if the minor causes an accident. The law requires that anyone signing the DMV application obtain insurance to cover the minor.
- j. Enlistment in the armed services - The guardian may consent to a minor's enlistment in the armed services. If the minor enters into active duty with the armed forces, the minor becomes emancipated under California law.
- k. Marriage - For the minor to marry, the guardian and the court must give permission. If the minor enters a valid marriage, the minor becomes emancipated under California law.
- l. Change of address - A guardian must notify the court in writing of any change in the address of either the child or the guardian. This includes any changes that result from the child's leaving the guardian's home or returning to the parent's home. You must always obtain court permission before you move the child to another state or country.
- m. Court visitors and status reports - Some counties have a program in which "court visitors" track and review guardianships. If your county has such a program, you will be expected to cooperate with all requests of the court visitor. As guardian, you may also be required to fill out and file status reports. In all counties, you must cooperate with the court and court investigators.
- n. Misconduct of the child - A guardian, like a parent, is liable for the harm and damages caused by the willful misconduct of a child. There are special rules concerning harm caused by the use of a firearm. If you are concerned about your possible liability, you should consult an attorney.
- o. Additional responsibilities - The court may place other conditions on the guardianship or additional duties upon you, as guardian. For example, the court may require the guardian to complete counseling or parenting classes, to obtain specific services for the child, or to follow a scheduled visitation plan between the child and the child's parents or relatives. As guardian, you must follow all court orders.

---------------------	-------	--------------

- p. Termination of guardianship of the person - A guardianship of the person automatically ends when the child reaches the age of 18, is adopted, marries, is emancipated by court order, enters into active military duty, or dies. If none of these events has occurred, the child, a parent, or the guardian may petition the court for termination of guardianship. But it must be shown that the guardianship is no longer necessary or that termination of the guardianship is in the child's best interest.

2. GUARDIANSHIP OF THE ESTATE

If the court appoints you as guardian of the child's estate, you will have additional duties and obligations. The money and other assets of the child are called the child's "estate." Appointment as guardian of a child's estate is taken very seriously by the court. The guardian of the estate is required to manage the child's funds, collect and make an inventory of the assets, keep accurate financial records, and regularly file financial accountings with the court.

MANAGING THE ESTATE

- a. Prudent investments - As guardian of the estate, you must manage the child's assets with the care of a prudent person dealing with someone else's property. This means that you must be cautious and may not make speculative or risky investments.
- b. Keeping estate assets separate - As guardian of the estate, you must keep the money and property of the child's estate separate from everyone else's, including your own. When you open a bank account for the estate, the account name must indicate that it is a guardianship account and not your personal account. You should use the child's social security number when opening estate accounts. You should never deposit estate funds in your personal account or otherwise mix them with your own funds or anyone else's funds, even for brief periods. Securities in the estate must be held in a name that shows that they are estate property and not your personal property.
- c. Interest-bearing accounts and other investments - Except for checking accounts intended for ordinary expenses, you should place estate funds in interest-bearing accounts. You may deposit estate funds in insured accounts in federally insured financial institutions, but you should not put more than $100,000 in any single institution. You should consult with an attorney before making other kinds of investments.
- d. Blocked accounts - A blocked account is an account with a financial institution in which money is placed. No person may withdraw funds from a blocked account without the court's permission. Depending on the amount and character of the child's property, the guardian may elect or the court may require that estate assets be placed in a blocked account. As guardian of the estate, you must follow the directions of the court and the procedures required to deposit funds in this type of account. The use of a blocked account is a safeguard and may save the estate the cost of a bond.
- e. Other restrictions - As guardian of the estate, you will have many other restrictions on your authority to deal with estate assets. Without prior court order, you may not pay fees to yourself or your attorney. You may not make a gift of estate assets to anyone. You may not borrow money from the estate. As guardian, you may not use estate funds to purchase real property without a prior court order. If you do not obtain the court's permission to spend estate funds, you may be compelled to reimburse the estate from your own personal funds and may be removed as guardian. You should consult with an attorney concerning the legal requirements relating to sales, leases, mortgages, and investment of estate property. If the child of whose estate you are the guardian has a living parent or if that child receives assets or is entitled to support from another source, you must obtain court approval before using guardianship assets for the child's support, maintenance, or education. You must file a petition or include a request for approval in the original petition, and set forth which exceptional circumstances justify any use of guardianship assets for the child's support. The court will ordinarily grant such a petition for only a limited period of time, usually not to exceed one year, and only for specific and limited purposes.

INVENTORY OF ESTATE PROPERTY

- f. Locate the estate's property - As guardian of the estate, you must locate, take possession of, and protect the child's income and assets that will be administered in the estate. You must change the ownership of all assets into the guardianship estate's name. For real estate, you should record a copy of your Letters of Guardianship with the county recorder in each county where the child owns real property.

- g. Determine the value of the property - As guardian of the estate, you must arrange to have a court-appointed referee determine the value of the estate property unless the appointment is waived by the court. You—not the referee—must determine the value of certain "cash items." An attorney can advise you about how to do this.
- h. File an inventory and appraisal - As guardian of the estate, you must file an inventory and appraisal within 90 days after your appointment. You may be required to return to court 90 days after your appointment as guardian of the estate to ensure that you have properly filed the inventory and appraisal.

INSURANCE

- i. Insurance coverage - As guardian of the estate, you should make sure that there is appropriate and sufficient insurance covering the assets and risks of the estate. You should maintain the insurance in force throughout the entire period of the guardianship or until the insured asset is sold.

RECORD KEEPING AND ACCOUNTING

- j. Records - As guardian of the estate, you must keep complete, accurate records of each financial transaction affecting the estate. The checkbook for the guardianship checking account is essential for keeping records of income and expenditures. You should also keep receipts for all purchases. Record keeping is critical because you will have to prepare an accounting of all money and property that you have received, what you have spent, the date of each transaction, and its purpose. You will also have to be able to describe in detail what is left after you have paid the estate's expenses.
- k. Accountings - As guardian of the estate, you must file a petition requesting that the court review and approve your accounting one year after your appointment and at least every two years after that. The court may ask that you justify some or all expenditures. You should have receipts and other documents available for the court's review, if requested. If you do not file your accounting as required, the court will order you to do so. You may be removed as guardian for failure to file an accounting.
- l. Format - As guardian of the estate, you must comply with all state and local rules when filing your accounting. A particular format is specified in the Probate Code, which you must follow when you present your account to the court. You should check local rules for any special local requirements.
- m. Legal advice - An attorney can advise you and help you prepare your inventories, accountings, and petitions to the court. If you have questions, you should consult with an attorney.

3. OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION

- a. Removal of a guardian - A guardian may be removed for specific reasons or when it is in the child's best interest. A guardian may be removed either on the court's own motion or by a petition filed by the child, a relative of the child, or any other interested person. If necessary, the court may appoint a successor guardian, or the court may return the child to a parent if that is found to be in the child's best interest.
- b. Legal documents - For your appointment as guardian to be valid, the Order Appointing Guardian of Minor must be signed. Once the court signs the order, the guardian must go to the clerk's office, where Letters of Guardianship will be issued. Letters of Guardianship is a legal document that provides proof that you have been appointed and are serving as the guardian of a minor. You should obtain several certified copies of the Letters from the clerk. These legal documents will be of assistance to you in the performance of your duties, such as enrolling the child in school, obtaining medical care, and taking care of estate business.
- c. Attorneys and legal resources - If you have an attorney, the attorney will advise you on your duties and responsibilities, the limits of your authority, the rights of the child, and your dealings with the court. If you have legal questions, you should consult with your attorney. Please remember that the court staff cannot give you legal advice.

There is no filing fee for filing the form. You may either arrange for personal delivery of the form or mail it to the court for filing at the address given for the court on page 1 of these Letters.

The guardian should deliver a blank copy of the appropriate form to you with these Letters, but it is your institution's or financial institution's responsibility to complete the correct form, have an authorized officer sign it, and file the completed form with the court. If the correct form is not delivered with these Letters or is unavailable for any other reason, blank copies of the forms may be obtained from the court. The forms may also be accessed from the judicial branch's public website free of charge. The Internet address (URL) is www.courts.ca.gov/forms.htm.
